

All About Photo Reveals the Winners of AAP Magazine #51: Colors

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE : LOS ANGELES, OCTOBER 15, 2025

We're thrilled to announce the 25 winners of AAP Magazine #51: Colors, a celebration of the boundless ways photographers interpret and transform the world through color.

Color is everywhere — in fleeting light, in urban chaos, in the quiet balance of nature. It can soothe or provoke, draw us in or push us away. Beyond its visual appeal, color carries emotion, memory, and meaning, shaping how we experience life itself.

For this new edition of AAP Magazine, we invited photographers from around the globe to explore how color defines their creative vision. From striking, high-saturation works that pulse with intensity to soft, poetic tones that whisper rather than shout, the selected images demonstrate that color is far more than a surface quality — it's a narrative force.

The 25 photographers featured in this issue represent 16 countries across 4 continents. Each artist offers a distinct perspective, revealing how color can transform ordinary scenes into extraordinary experiences. Together, their work reminds us that to see color is to feel — and to feel deeply.

The Winner is Trevor Cole (Ireland) with the series 'Pastoral Peoples and Practices'
